

Senior Application Analyst

Agree Realty is looking for a Senior Application Analyst to join our growing team. This position plays a significant role in creating, developing, and realizing Agree's application strategy and the architectural landscape across the company. The Senior Application Analyst will work across all departments to understand requirements, create, and manage projects while providing ongoing support for the key applications at the company leveraging the Microsoft ecosystem to the extent possible. This person should be a Microsoft all-star and be able to own and be excited about digging into the Microsoft applications.

What you will do:

- Provide senior level development and support for our current Microsoft 365 platform, MRI ERP, as well as other key strategic systems including, but not limited to PipeDrive and Nexus.
- Provide product expertise to internal business teams, acting as a resource in understanding how IT systems perform business and user functions.
- Assist team members with advanced challenges and resolve issues independently.
- Research tools to identify those that can best serve the needs of our team members and other stakeholders.
- Analyze, design, and develop IT solutions owning the entire Software Development Life Cycle.
- Development and refinement of proofs-of-concept to confirm requirements.
- Develop reports, conversions, interfaces, integrations, and extensions for applications.
- Understand and modify the application configuration as required (including system configurations, data fields, workflows, custom libraries, profile options, etc.).
- Create test plans, test cases, test scripts, and perform functional testing. Create and maintain system documentation, change management, and source control processes.
- Assist with projects as may be required to contribute to efficiency and effectiveness of the work.
- Work with the business units/stakeholders to recommend appropriate training.
- Lead communication and scheduling as enhancements are tested, piloted and deployed.
- Comfortable being "hands on" with all technology solutions being used by the company.
- Responsible for managing third party vendors and consultants.

Technical Skills:

- Extensive experience in
 - MS Windows, Office, Teams (incl. Phone), SharePoint, and OneDrive
 - Working with MS Power Platform (Apps, Automate and Power BI)
- Strong level knowledge of
 - Data Integration Solutions (ETL, ELT, APIs, etc.) across multiple technologies
 - Application database architecture, as well as MSSQL database administration, optimization, and development.
 - Exchange technologies, both on premise and Exchange Online
 - Azure AD and the Azure Active Directory Connector technologies
 - MS M365 Security & Compliance services including Defender
- Experience in
 - Supporting or implementing ERP systems from the technology side; MRI software products highly desirable

- MRI SQL queries, views, and stored procedures

Who you are:

- Bachelor's degree in Information Technology, Computer Science or related degree, or equivalent experience
- Excellent interpersonal, business communication, and writing skills
- Strong organizational skills and ability to multi-task in a deadline driven environment
- Experience in translating business requirements into project specifications, design documents, and perform impact analysis for application changes.
- Proven success in designing, developing, and deploying cloud-based applications.
- Experience in SDLC methodology / understanding of agile methodology
- Project Management experience is a plus
